Jessica Conquered Laguna Beach, MTV, and Now Hits Up Europe

UthTV.com has Exclusive Footage of Jessica of the hit MTV show Laguna Beach traveling around Europe and video taping her adventure.

New York, NY, August 7th, 2006 – Laguna Beach moves to Europe. Not exactly. But Jessica from Laguna Beach took a European vacation traveling around the four biggest cities and UthTV has footage of her adventure. UthTV.com, a site for youth that focuses on promoting their creative talents, is portraying the experiences of the ultimate teen, Jessica Smith.

Jessica left behind her Laguna Beach friends, the drama, and her beach-side home on a European vacation for the Let's Go Travel Guide Series. Traveling around London, Paris, Amsterdam, and Berlin Jessica had a video camera in hand to record her exciting journey and document her opinions, feelings, and experiences. From visiting tourist destinations to seeing cool local hot spots only European residents would know about, Jessica's active vacation is filled with insights teens are dying to see.

UthTV.com gives youth a tour of Europe by their favorite MTV star. The first episode of Jessica's trip premieres on Monday, August 14 as a three-minute segment. Of course, no show featuring a Laguna Beach member, is complete without its share of action, excitement, and fun. Since the trip is shot by Jessica, teens get a unique perspective of Europe from a teenage point of view. They see it through her eyes, and learn about cool things young people can do in Europe.

"Considering that the European footage was captured by a teen and is aimed for youth to see, it matches perfectly with UthTV's principles of promoting youth and expressing their talents," says Carl Rosendahl, C.E.O. of UthTV. UthTV is the first website of its kind; its promotion of such high quality shows as Jessica's ensures great success and adoration by the teen market. Jessica is very popular on Laguna Beach, and is expected to gain just as much attention on UthTV.

Another episode is in the works, and will be hosted on UthTV in the coming weeks. Jessica Smith can be seen on the new season of Laguna Beach, which debuts on August 16.
